TO GUARD AGAINST INFECTION

HONGKONG MARUS IN QUARANTINE

Forty-nine days from South America ports via Central America, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Hongkong Maru, with a large general cargo of products of these countries destined for Japan and China, arrived at the harbor of Honolulu awaiting a thorough fumigation at the hands of the United States Marine Hospital and Public Health officials.

Dr. Trotter, in charge of the local station, visited the Hongkong Maru immediately on arrival of the Japanese liner this morning. He lost no time in deciding that the vessel go into quarantine pending a fumigation of her passenger and crew quarters.

The vessel comes from ports along the Central and South American coast, where yellow fever and other infectious diseases prevail.

The local staff of Federal medical officers are not taking any chance of possible infection of this port through the introduction of mosquitoes.

The Hongkong Maru is to be brought into the harbor, and will take a berth presumably at Hackfeld wharf tomorrow morning, where seven hundred and fifty tons of coal will be placed aboard before the vessel is dispatched for Japan and China.

The Federal customs officers did not go aboard the Japanese liner today pending the quarantine.

The Hongkong Maru is reported as hearing a large number of Asiatic steamer passengers to the Orient. The vessel has no cargo for discharge at this point.

American-Hawaiian Freighter To Carry Coal

With the charter of two more big carriers the Government has added to its fleet of coal steamers from the Atlantic to the Mare Island (Cal.) Navy Yard. The latest fixtures include the steamer Texan of the American-Hawaiian Company's line and another steamer of 7000 tons dead weight capacity. For October loading the Texan gets a rate of $7 and for September-October loading the other vessel is receiving $5.34. The Texan is American and the second carrier of British registry. The Government fleet now en route from the Atlantic to the Golden Gate consists of the British steamer Ockley, from Newport News; and the British steamers Strathearn, Strathdene and Strathlyon from Norfolk. The British steamers in the coal fleet are already under charter for outward loading. In this trade a great number of "Strath" liners have come to this coast to carry lumber to the Orient and Australia, the British colony trade drawing most of them.

Spreckels Charged High Tonnage Tax.

Customs Collector Frederick S. Stratton has requested John D. Spreckels to pay a tonnage duty of $4100 on the Spreckels yacht Venetia, in accordance with the requirement that all foreign built yachts must pay a duty in proportion to their tonnage. Spreckels suggested that it might be well to wait for the decision of the United States Supreme Court in a case now before it, in which the constitutionality of the tax is at issue. The matter was submitted to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who will await the Court's decision.

Schooner Compeer May Be Total Loss.

The schooner Compeer, Captain Winters, is reported ashore at Bristol Bay. The vessel, which is owned by Olson Bros., was driven on the beach at the salmon cannery station July 18, and according to advices the prospects of floating her are slim. The Compeer left San Francisco in April last and was anchored in Bristol Bay when severe weather came on. The moorings parted and the wind and tide sent the craft on the beach.

Grew Recruited, Sudora Sails.

Destined for Tacoma, Washington, there to load grain for an European port, the British bark Sudora, squared away this morning for the open sea.

The Sudora rode at anchor off the port for twenty-four hours pending the recovery of one or more sailors who had managed to break away from the vessel during the stay at this port.

The necessary men to man the ship were forthcoming late last night and the Sudora is now on the way to the Sound in ballast.

Iwafani In And Out.

The interisland steamer, an arrival from Hawaii ports this morning is not destined to make a very long stay at the port of Honolulu. The vessel returned with 25 head cattle and several packages sundries. The Iwafani is to be dispatched for Kau ports this afternoon where a full shipment of sugar awaits the arrival of the coaster.

Santa Maria Back With Oil.

Oil for the local branch of the Union Oil Company to the amount of 43,000 barrels besides about eight hundred cases of petroleum has arrived at Honolulu with the American tanker Santa Maria.

Captain Winnet reported a fair trip down from the coast. The vessel sails from Port Hartford, twelve days being consumed in the trip.

The Santa Maria is expected will be discharged and be ready for sea by Sunday.

Persia From The Coast Nearing Port.

The Pacific Mail liner Persia from San Francisco is expected will arrive off the port late this afternoon. According to a late wireless received at the agency of H. Hackfeld & Company the Persia has eighty first and sixteen second class passengers, proceeding through to the Orient.

The vessel will remain at Honolulu over night and presumably sail for Japan and China ports on or about nine o'clock Saturday morning.

"WHITE PLAGUE"

suits of great value, and in securing 100 per cent. more data relating to tuberculosis in Hawaii can now build up a machine of greater efficiency, through being able to work more directly against the evil than it formerly did.

"The objects of the present campaign will be two-fold," said Dr. A. N. Sinclair, executive officer of the league, this morning. "Primarily our greatest desire is to get control of all the tuberculosis cases in the Territory and place them under treatment. We will seek aid in doing this in an extended campaign of publicity. How much this is needed can be understood when it is realized that several hundred cases of tuberculosis are reported yearly throughout the Territory that the authorities know nothing of until the patients die and it becomes necessary to get a death certificate.

"Secondly our efforts will be directed against those conditions breeding or encouraging tuberculosis. This work is of considerable more difficulty. There are prejudices to overcome, so-called property rights to come in conflict with, and other matters, all of which are capable of throwing great discouragement in the way of the workers. We will attempt, through branches of the system at present at our service, to obtain playgrounds for children and to alleviate congested conditions where they exist by affording plenty of opportunity for fresh air.

"We hope to greatly reduce the prevalence of tuberculosis if we can obtain the control of all consumptives, as I said before, for every patient under treatment in a sanitarium who is being otherwise trained how to conduct himself with the least possible danger to his companions, is that much danger removed from the community at large. Medical science teaches us that it is not impossible to wipe out this dreadful disease altogether, and it is our ambition and hope to place Hawaii in the front rank of progress in this matter."

POLITICAL NOTES

Rev. S. L. Desha, the silver-tongued orator of Hilo, Hawaii, will arrive in the Mauna Kea tomorrow morning on business. It is reported that he has agreed to speak in Hawaii, for the candidacy of the regular Republican nominees at the meeting to be held tomorrow evening at Aala park. Desha, as is well known throughout the territory, is one of the best Hawaiian speakers, not only on the pulpit but from the stump. Owing to his thorough knowledge of the qualifications of the Republican nominees, the leaders of the party decided to send for him to come here and deliver the most important political speech of his life at Aala park tomorrow night.

Prince Kuhio, delegate to Congress, who has been making a political tour on Kauai, will, according to the present plans, return tomorrow morning. It was his intention, before he left for the Garden Island, to make a thorough campaign on the island before returning to Honolulu.

WATER MAINS TO BE LAID IN KAILUANI

Kailuani will have its water mains down in the near future. This is the assurance given out from the Governor's office this morning, and property owners feel that a big step in the right direction has been taken.

The other day the executive committee of the Republican county central committee held a conference with the Governor, concerning the laying of mains in the Kailuani tract, Kailuani, and this morning's announcement from the executive shows that the conference has borne the right kind of fruit. Work will be started immediately and rushed to completion.

Miss Eleanor Peregrin, the nurse who attended Walter Duryea, the New York clubman, during twelve years of illness, was left $155,000.

FIRST HAS ALL ITS CAPTAINS

Army orders received here show that two infantry captains have been ordered to their regiments at Schofield Barracks from the Army War College, and this means that for the first time in many years every company in the First Infantry will be commanded by a captain, while all but one of the Second will be in the same state. There is no more chance for second lieutenants to command companies in either of these organizations.

The officer who completes the company commanders list in the First is Captain Campbell King, while Captain Charles S. Lincoln is coming to the Second. They will arrive on the November transport.

Ordinance Sergeant Leonidas Piersaul has been ordered to Schofield Barracks where he will join the post non-com staff. He has just been promoted out of the 25th Infantry, a colored regiment.

A special invitation is extended to the ladies to come and hear all about it, and a score of handsome ushers will see that there are seats for women, which are at times more important than votes for women. Some excellent music is on the program, and pictures of "as handsome a bunch of candidates as were ever gathered together under one top" will be flashed on the screen. The rally will open at 7:30 sharp.

Following is the list of speakers in the order in which they will be heard, together with the musical interpositions.

JURY IS TOLD STORY OF DEATH IN KONA FEUD

D. P. Kamaouha, attorney and former surveyor of Napoosoo, Hawaii, was the sole witness examined during today's court session in the trial of John Gomes Henriques, accused of murder in the first degree.

Kamaouha was one of seven or eight eye-witnesses who were not actively interested in the affray between the Japanese and the Henriques family, in which Aoyama was killed at South Kona on the evening of November 14, 1911, and shortly after the affair, at the behest of Deputy County Attorney W. H. Heen, Kamaouha drew a map of the grounds, showing the relative position of the different persons when the shooting occurred.

This map was produced this morning, and for the first time the jury was given a detailed narrative of the struggle. After his general story of the battle he was questioned closely concerning every detail and every minute item of interest in the case was related.

The case was threshed out in some detail before the district court of Hawaii prior to the change of venue from the circuit court of that island to Honolulu, and it is an old story to the witnesses and all others interested except the present jury. At the present rate, however, two weeks will be only too short for the complete hearing of all the evidence.

GRAND JURY PROBES CRIMES

Five indictments, four of which are brought against two men, were returned by the Territorial grand jury in its initial report to Circuit Judge H. E. Cooper this morning. Two true bills are returned against Hee Park, a Chinaman arrested some time ago and accused of assaulting girls less than twelve years of age. Two true bills also are found against Samuel Kahl, held on a charge of burglary in the second degree. The other indictment names Tam Ha and accuses him of assault and battery with a weapon. All three prisoners will be arraigned before Judge Cooper Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The grand jury in session yesterday listened to many shocking stories told by little children concerning a series of assaults and statutory crimes committed by Chinese and other male offenders.

Hee Park, an aged Chinese, has been under investigation by Chief of Detectives McDuffie and Prosecuting Attorney A. M. Brown for the past few days, and these officials claim to have elicited sufficient evidence against the accused to hold him for further inquiry by the grand jury. This body will meet on next Wednesday or Thursday to further probe stories of statutory crimes committed against little girls.

In several instances the girls who figure in the revolting assaults from grown men are but mere children, and under the age of seven years.

Hawaiian and Japanese girls are in the main the victims of the lust of the brutes now facing serious charges in either the lower or upper courts.

The grand jury at its next session is believed will take up a hearing of the charges filed against George Borges a Portuguese youth who has been an inmate of the city and county jail for some weeks upon a charge similar to that filed against the Chinese.

In the case of Borges, it is alleged that the father of the victim appeared at the police headquarters and asked that the charges against Borges be dropped.

Silva, better known as the "Punch-bowl Demon," now languishes at the central station awaiting a preliminary hearing upon a statutory crime alleged to have been committed in the Palace grounds, his alleged victim being a young married woman.

tioned are at Wainiha, Kukuluahele and Honokaa.

At seven of these landings freight is handled by cable from ships to shore; at five a considerable haul on land is involved; at two the total charges collected amount to practically nothing, and at one, the Kahului wharf, the charges are under the control of the harbor commissioners, who are planning to take this over by purchase.

This deal, by the way, is held up at present by a clause in the proposed contract drawn by the commission, which provides that the present owners the Kahului Railway, shall not build another wharf and enter into competition with the present pier in case it is bought by the Territory. This, the commissioners say, is absolutely necessary, as the railway controls more than ninety percent of all the freight passing to and from over the wharf, and should the railway sell the present wharf and then erect another, giving the new one all its business, it would leave the Territory "holding the bag."

It is proposed that after the purchase of the present Claudine wharf at Kahului by the Territory, a new bulkhead wharf shall be constructed there, for the use of deep sea going vessels, with the Claudine wharf left for inter-island trade.

CHARGES MARKET SCREENS HELP TO DRINKERS

The regular meeting of the Anti-Saloon League was held yesterday afternoon in Cooke hall, Y. M. C. A. building at which several matters of business were taken up and reports read. The temperance situation with regard to the political campaign was also discussed.

In making his report of the work of the league George W. Paty said:

"The ordinance that the fish markets should be screened has been put into effect, and we can feel that the fish and meat are not contaminated by the flies and other insects. But it has also been most too much screened. In certain parts of it there are rooms where people can come in and sit, unobserved by the masses, and bring their liquor and buy a few cakes to go with it, and drink their bottles of 'square face' as if it were water. This certainly ought not to be—the making of a drinking house out of the market for the benefit derived from the sale of a few cakes is not right. I was in the market a month or so ago and sat at a table. In an inner room adjoining were four Hawaiians sitting round a table, two men and two women. In the center of the table sat a bottle of gin. These Hawaiians would take a drink around, eat a few cakes, and then drink again. I have had it reported to me as a very common happening for Hawaiians to get intoxicated in these places.

"I have had complaints handed to me several times about people taking liquor into restaurants with them, drinking at the table, and becoming so boisterous as to disturb others who are eating there.

"Perhaps if Charles G. Bartlett gets to be supervisor, and is appointed superintendent of the police and the law and order department, he will eliminate these little irregularities.

"The statement that Judge Larnach fined a hack-driver $25 for reckless driving, was not properly reported. In the evidence it appeared that the
